

Why I Love My Library

By Jessica McCaskill

I love my library because it is a learning experience for all ages. You can learn everything from books. You can learn a lot about dogs from a dog book. You learn a lot about airplanes from an airplane book, and you can learn a lot about Ben Franklin from a biography. The main thing I like about books is that you learn, learn, learn a lot from them! Let's say you were doing a biography about Thomas Jefferson and you need to get a lot of information. Your answer is a book! Libraries are one of the best things that have happened to me. Without books I would be nothing. I love, love, love books! They can help you do almost anything.

You might think that a library is boring, not fun, and uncool! Well, you are wrong. They have many things. Maybe you are a football fan. They have football books. Maybe you are a baseball fan. They have baseball books. Maybe you are a basketball fan. They have basketball books. That's another reason I love my library! My library has sports books, joke books, biographies, magazines, fiction books non-fiction books, and more! That is the biggest group of choices ever!

The staff that works there is amazing. They make everything fun for everyone. The Accelerate Reader Program is the best. You win prizes for reading! That is very cool because they want you to read, read, read. They encourage you to read so you can get prizes. Our librarian is awesome! You may think that a librarian has squinting eyes and big glasses that sit on her sharp nose with her finger glued to her mouth saying "SHHHHHHH", with her hair wrapped up into a big bun. Not our librarian! She is not like that at all. She reads to us. Plays games with us and has fun book fairs. That's why I love my library.
